37 CFR Part 10
Cross Appeals in Patent and Trademark Office Disciplinary Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) proposes to amend its rules of practice in practitioner disciplinary proceedings. The proposed rule change provides for a time period for a party to a disciplinary proceeding to file a cross-appeal, after the other party (the respondent or the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline) to the proceeding has appealed from an initial decision of the administrative law judge to the Commissioner. Currently, PTO rules do not provide for a time period for filing a cross-appeal in a disciplinary case. A party in a disciplinary case may be interested in appealing only if the other party has appealed. Allowing a time period for filing a cross-appeal will give parties to disciplinary cases more flexibility after an initial decision by the administrative law judge. A party need not file a contingent appeal simply to preserve rights in the event the other party files an appeal.
Dates: Written comments must be received on or before Aug. 20, 1993 to ensure consideration. An oral hearing will not be conducted.
Addresses: Address written comments to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Fred E. McKelvey, Solicitor. Written comments will be available for public inspection in suite 918, on the 9th floor of Crystal Park II, located at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 305-9035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Pursuant to 37 CFR §10.132 et seq., the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline within the PTO may initiate a disciplinary proceeding against a practitioner. If the proceeding is contested by the practitioner and the Director continues to prosecute, an administrative law judge for the Department of Commerce enters an initial decision which includes findings of fact, conclusions of law and an order. 37 CFR §10.154.

Either party to the proceeding may appeal from the initial decision of the administrative law judge to the Commissioner with in thirty (30) days of the date of the decision. 37 CFR §10.155(a). However, §10.155(a) does not currently address the filing of a cross-appeal. That is, no period of time is specified for the non-appealing party to file a cross-appeal.

With regard to interference proceedings, 37 CFR §1.304(a) addresses the filing of cross-appeals by stating in pertinent part that:

> the time for filing a cross-appeal [to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit] or cross-action [in a district court] expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

The proposed rule change is similiar to the cross-appeal authorized in interference proceedins.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the proposed rule change will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principle impact of the proposed change is to provide a time period to file a cross-appeal in a PTO disciplinary proceeding.

The PTO has determined that the proposed rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individuals; industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of the United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The proposed rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

§10.155 Appeal to the Commissioner.

(a) Within thirty (30) days from the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge under §10.154, either party may appeal to the Commissioner. ©If an appeal is taken, the time for filing a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after service of the appeal or (2) 30 days after the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge, whichever is later.§ An appeal ©or cross-appeal§ by the respondent will be filed with the Director in duplicate and will include exceptions to the decisions of the administrative law judge and supporting reasons for those exceptions. If the Director files the appeal ©or cross-appeal§, the Director shall serve a copy of the appeal ©or cross-appeal§. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of an appeal ©, cross-appeal§ or copy thereof, the other party may file a reply brief, in duplicate with the Director. Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 1
Changes in Patent Drawing Standards

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice regarding patent drawings to adopt international standards and to eliminate unnecessary requirements. The Office is amending the rules to provide clarification and adopt international standards; to delete the reference to changes by bonded draftsmen since the Office will no longer release drawings from patent applications and to include the option of submitting black and white photographs in lieu of black ink drawings.
Effective Date: October 1, 1993. These rules will be applicable to all drawings and papers filed with the Office on or after the effective date.
For Further Information Contact: Richard A. Bawcombe by telephone at (703) 305-8594, by mail marked to his attention addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, or by facsimile transmission to his attention at (703) 305-4372.
Supplementary Information: In a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register (57 FR 42721) on September 16, 1992, and in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette (1143 Off. Gaz. Pat Office 13) on Oct. 6, 1992, the Office proposed to amend the rules of practice in patent drawings. Drawings acceptable for patent applications filed outside of the United States are not always acceptable in a patent application filed in the United States. Therefore, the rules relating to drawing requirements are being amended to enable the Office, when appropriate, to accept drawings that are capable of clear reproduction for the printing of any resulting patent. Drawings in compliance with the old §1.84 will be in compliance with the new §1.84.

An oral hearing was not conducted. However, six written comments were submitted.

Response to Comments on the Rules

The comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking have been given careful consideration and several of the suggested modifications have been adopted.

Another modification, since the "Notice of Proposed Rulemaking," is under §1.84 wherein five sets of drawings were required, but the total has been decreased to three sets due to a reassessment of the need for the additional copies for Office use. The comments and responses are discussed below.
Comment: Three comments were received regarding the proposed changes within §1.84(b). Three other comments were received regarding the proposed changes to §1.165. All six comments suggested that the Office continue to accept mounted photographs.
Response: The Office will adopt the suggestion and continue to accept mounted photographs for utility, design, and plant patent applications. The initial reason the Office sought to change the rule was to overcome the problem of mounted photographs becoming detached and separated from the file. The apparent burden to applicants associated with the Office not accepting mounted photographs is the reason the Office will continue to permit mounted photographs provided they are permanently affixed.

Several of the commenters mentioned that they have never had problems with mounted photographs. As commentary on these remarks, it is not the person filing the drawings who would have problems with mounted photographs; it is the Office. And, indeed, the Office has, in the past, experienced problems with mounted photographs coming loose from the paper they are mounted on. When this happens, the photographs can become displaced from the file and lost. This has occurred many times, leading to frustration and wasted effort on the part of many practitioners, as well as on the part of Office personnel. If mounted photographs are to be used, they must be mounted in such a way that they cannot become loose from the bristol board to which they are mounted.
Comment: Two of the comments regarding 1.84(b) also mentioned that the proposed rules would not allow more than one figure on each sheet of drawings where photographs are being used, and sought relief from this proposed change.
Response: Since the Office will continue to accept mounted photographs, the Office will also accept sheets of drawings where more than one photograph appears on the drawing sheet provided that all other drawing requirements are met.
Comment: Two of the comments suggested that the Office not require photographs to be on A4 size paper.
Response: The Office will adopt the suggestion. The Office will accept photographs on one of the four paper sizes specified in §1.84(f), as long as all sheets are the same size.
Comment: Regarding §1.84(f), one comment suggested that the Office permit use of an additional size of paper, i.e., 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches).
Response: The Office will adopt the suggestion. The adoption of the suggestion to add an additional paper size under §1.84(f), results in the need for an additional margin size. Therefore, an additional paragraph is added to §1.84(g) to state that "On 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inch) drawing sheets, each sheet must include a top margin of 2.5 cm. (1 inch) and bottom and side margins of .64 cm. (1/4 inch) from the edges, thereby leaving a sight precisely 20.3 by 24.8 cm. (8 by 9 3/4 inches)."
Comment: Regarding 1.84(p)(3), one comment suggested liberalization for drawings which include typewritten subject matter, such as gene or protein sequences that consist predominantly of letters, sometimes with underlining and boxes around them. Other situations cited were graphs and photographs of gels, which often appear in biotechnological inventions, which include typed matter as legends.
Response: The suggestion has not been adopted because letters need to stand at the designated height to maintain legibility when reductions become necessary to accommodate the various photocomposed products.
Comment: Regarding §1.84(w), one comment mentioned that correction fluid is not permanent and has a tendency to flake and fall from the surface it covers.
Response: Section 1.84(w) permits correction fluid to be used provided the correction fluid is durable and permanent. If correction fluid is used on drawings submitted to the Office, the applicant will be required by the Office to correct the drawings if the correction fluid becomes loose before the patent printing process is completed.

Comment: One comment suggested that §1.152 was improper in permitting either ink drawings or photographs to be submitted with an application for a design patent, but not both, and in requiring any photographs submitted to show only the design claimed and none of the environment in which it is used. The comment argued that prohibition against using both ink drawings and photographs is inconsistent with 35 U.S.C. 112. Under that section of the statute, a design patent application must disclose the invention "in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as enable any person skilled in the art ... to make and use" the invention and "set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention."

Response: Section 1.152 is consistent with 35 U.S.C. 112. The introduction of both photographs and ink drawings in a design application would result in a high probability of inconsistencies between corresponding elements on the ink drawings as compared with the photographs. However, if special circumstances warrant use of both ink drawings and photographs, applicant can file a petition under §1.183 to permit both in a design application if such drawings do not introduce inconsistencies between the views.

DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC SECTIONS CHANGED OR ADDED:

Section 1.17(h) is amended to include a reference to §1.84 for accepting color drawings or photographs in utility patent applications.

Section 1.19(a)(3) is amended to change the citation of §1.84(p) to §1.84(a)(2) in view of the amendments to §1 84.

Section 1.71(d) is amended to change the citation of §1.84(o) to §1.84(s) in view of the amendments to §1.84.

Section 1.84 is revised as follows:

(a) Drawings. This paragraph is added to classify drawings into two categories, i.e., black ink and color, and deletes the limitation that the use of white pigment to cover lines is not normally acceptable. The black ink drawing requirements are amended to allow computer-generated drawings to be accepted subject to the same standards applied to all black ink drawings. Color drawing requirements are moved from §1.84(p) to §1.84(a). Color drawings may be acceptable upon the granting of a petition filed under this paragraph explaining why the color drawings are necessary. A petition is required because the special handling necessary for color drawings is time consuming and the Office cannot permit such a special procedure except in extenuating circumstances. Since utility patents are not printed in color, 3 sets of color drawings are necessary for proper distribution within the Office. One color set will be attached to the Letters Patent for routing to the applicant. The remaining two color sets will be routed to (1) the patent file, and (2) the Office of Publication and Dissemination, Patent and Trademark Copy Sales, for copying purposes when a copy in color of a utility patent containing a color drawing, as provided for in §119(a)(3), is requested.

(b) Photographs. This paragraph permits the acceptance of photographs upon granting of an applicant's petition. The Office will accept black and white and color photographs or photomicrographs (not photolithographs or other reproductions of photographs made by using screens) developed on double weight photographic paper or permanently mounted on bristol board, in lieu of ink drawings. The photographs must be of sufficient quality so that all details in the drawing are reproducible in the printed patent.

(c) Identification of drawings. This paragraph permits an applicant to provide proper identification information on the reverse side of each sheet of drawings. The identification information allows the Office to match drawing sheets with the proper application. The identification information should include the application number, if known, or the title of the invention, inventor's name, docket number (if any), and name and telephone number of the person to call if the drawings cannot be matched to the proper patent application. The Office will not object if identifying information is not present; however, if the drawings become separated, it will be virtually impossible for the Office to match the drawings with the application. This paragraph is restructured from previous §1.84(1) and revised to state that the preferred placement of the information is on the back side of the drawing sheets.

(d) Graphic forms in drawings. This paragraph is added to set standards for chemical and mathematical formulae to align Office standards for formulae, tables, and waveforms with international standards.

(e) Type of paper. This paragraph is a revision of previous §1 84(a) to set forth the requirements for the type of paper to be used for drawings, including the type of paper for photographs.

(f) Size of paper. This paragraph clarifies Office requirements set forth in previous §1.84(b) and permits one additional size of paper, i.e., 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches) for drawings.

(g) Margins. This paragraph is restructured from previous §1.84(b) to indicate how the size of the paper changes the margin requirements. The Office will accept four sizes of paper, however, the sight (i.e. the usable surface) is the same for two of the paper sizes, i.e., 21.6 cm. by 33.1 cm. (8 1/2 by 13 inches), and 21.6 cm. by 35.6 cm. (8 1/2 by 14 inches). The sight is 17 0 cm. by 26.2 cm. for DIN size A4 paper. The sight is 20.3 cm. by 24.8 cm. (8 by 9 3/4 inches) for the added paper size of 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches).

(h) Views. This paragraph is added to reformat previous §1.84(i) to provide a logical arrangement of the different views provided in the rules, to revise the standards for purposes of clarification, to include the standard for waveforms to show the relative timing, to provide clearer language relative to hatching shown on drawings, to set forth the standard for depicting hatching in sectional views as regularly spaced parallel oblique strokes which precludes use of cross-hatching strokes, and to include requirements pertaining to alternate positions. In addition, both Roman and Arabic numerals are acceptable to designate the section being illustrated.

(i) Arrangement of views. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(j) and revised to incorporate international standards. In addition, this paragraph is changed and broadened to provide for placement of words on drawings. One view is not to be superimposed within the outline of another. The changes expand the possibilities for presenting graphs to conform to standard scientific conventions, while using a format which is compatible with automated patent searching displays. See 1121 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 54 (Dec. 25, 1990) and 1129 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 22 (Aug. 13, 1991).

(j) View for Official Gazette. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(k).

(k) Scale. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(e) and §1.84(i) and revised to indicate that the words "actual size" or "scale 1/2" on the drawings are not permitted since the meaning is lost in reduction/enlargement. The paragraph provides that elements of the same view must be in proportion to each other, unless a difference in proportion is indispensable for the clarity of the view. As a preferred alternative to a difference in proportion within one view for the purpose of achieving the necessary clarity, a supplementary view may be added giving a larger-scale illustration of an element from the initial view. When a supplementary view is included, it is recommended that the enlarged element shown in the second view be surrounded by a finely drawn or "dot-dash" circle in the first view pinpointing its location, without obscuring the view.

(l) Character of lines, numbers, and letters. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(c) and revised to indicate that lines and strokes of different thicknesses may be used in the same drawing where different thicknesses have different meanings. In addition, this paragraph is changed and broadened to allow drawings to be made by any process which will give them satisfactory reproduction characteristics.

(m) Shading. This paragraph is changed and broadened to expand definitions for shading and deletes the limitation that drawings transmitted to the Office should be sent flat, protected by a sheet of heavy binder's board, or rolled for transmission in a suitable mailing tube. This change provides the individual practitioner with greater discretion on how to send drawings. In addition, this paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(d) to separate shading requirements from hatching requirements by stating that shading may be used to indicate the surface or shape of spherical, cylindrical, and conical elements of an object, and that spaced lines are preferred for shading purposes. Solid black areas are not permitted, except when used to represent bar graphs or color.

(n) Symbols. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(g) to separate symbols requirements from legends requirements and enlarges the number of acceptable symbols. Known devices should be illustrated by symbols which have a universally-recognized meaning, and which are generally accepted in the art, provided no further detail is essential for understanding the subject matter of the claimed invention. Symbols which are not universally recognized may be used if they are not likely to be confused with existing conventional symbols and if they are readily identifiable, subject to approval by the Examiner.

(o) Legends. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(g) to separate legends requirements from symbols requirements and revised to integrate international standards. Where text matter is (1) deemed indispensable for understanding the drawing or (2) may be required by the Examiner, a minimum of words should be used. While such requirement by the Examiner was not contained in the "Notice of Proposed Rulemaking," it was contained in former §1.84(g). Words should not be used to describe the figure itself, such as "this is a bar graph." All text legends are subject to approval by the examiner.

(p) Numbers, letters, and reference characters. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(f) and revised to include numbers and letters in the heading formerly designated "reference characters." This section has been reformatted into five subsections and revised to integrate international standards, where possible. Although the Latin alphabet is used in the international standard, the Office takes the view that the English alphabet is more universally acceptable for letters, except where another alphabet is customarily used, such as the Greek alphabet to indicate angles, wavelengths, and mathematical formulae. In addition, the characters used must be oriented in the same direction as the view so as to avoid having to rotate the sheet. Reference characters should be so arranged to follow the profile of the object depicted. See 1121 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 54 (Dec. 25, 1990) and 1129 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 22 (Aug. 13, 1991).

(q) Lead lines. This paragraph is added to integrate international standards, to incorporate brief language which appears in previous §1.84(f), and to change and expand the definition for lead lines. Lead lines are those lines between the reference characters and the details referred to, and they must be executed in the same way as other lines in the drawing.

(r) Arrows. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(g) and revised to indicate the meaning of the use of arrows, and to show that they may be used at the end of lead lines only if their meaning is clear.

(s) Copyright or mask work notice. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(o).

(t) Numbering of sheets of drawings. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(n) and changed and broadened to allow for the placement of sheet numbers within the sight of the drawing. It is preferable that the sheets be numbered with two Arabic numerals placed on either side of an oblique line, with the first number being the sheet number and the second the total number of sheets of drawings.

(u) Numbering of views. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(i) and, for clarity, is separately identified in this new section. Use of the abbreviation "FIG." must precede all view numbers.

(v) Security markings. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(1) to provide that security markings may be placed on the drawings if they are outside the sight and preferably centered in the top margin.

(w) Corrections. This paragraph is added to provide that any corrections made on drawings submitted to the Office must be durable and permanent. The language is revised from previous 1.84(a) which prohibited the use of white pigment to cover lines.

(x) Holes. This paragraph is relocated from previous §1.84(b) to permit two holes to be punched in the top margin of the drawings with their center lines spaced 7.0 cm. (2 3/4 inches) apart.

Section 1.88 is removed and reserved since the changes effective January 1, 1991, in §1.85(b) make the regulation regarding the transfer of drawings unnecessary. Since the Office no longer releases drawings from patent applications, applicants are generally retaining the master copy of the drawings. Accordingly, applicants can easily file a copy of drawings in an application and therefore eliminate the need for the Office to transfer drawings. Any situations which present a hardship to applicants may be accommodated by the filing of a petition under §1.182 requesting the transfer of the drawings.

Section 1.123 prescribes procedures for amending drawings. With the adoption of new rules for amending drawings effective January 1, 1989, the Office no longer requires the submission of formal drawings upon filing a patent application. See 1097 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 36 (Dec. 13, 1988). Since corrections are the responsibility of the applicant, the original drawing(s) should be retained by the applicant for future correction, if necessary.

As a result of adoption of the new rules in 1989 relating to drawings, the Office will no longer release to applicants, bonded drafting companies or others, drawings from patent applications. Effective January 1, 1991, §1.85(b) prohibits release of drawings from all patent applications. Accordingly, the reference to changes by bonded draftsmen is deleted from §1.123.

Section 1.152 is revised to provide that photographs and ink drawings must not be combined in one design application. The reason for this requirement is to avoid inconsistencies between the photograph and the drawing, and further eliminate views that may distort the proportionate relationship between the corresponding elements on the drawing and the photograph. All design photographs are limited to the design for the article claimed and are not to include environmental structure.

Color drawings and color photographs are not permissible in design patent applications. The submission of color photographs will be accepted for filing date purposes, in design patent applications, contrary to the requirement for black ink drawings. The Applications Processing Division has been authorized to construe the color photographs as informal drawings, rather than to hold the applications incomplete as filed. By so construing color photographs when filed as informal drawings, the Office will accept the applications without requiring applicants to file a petition to obtain the original deposit date as the filing date. During the course of prosecution, the Examiner will require properly executed formal black ink drawings or black and white photographs as a substitute for the originally filed color photographs prior to allowance of the claim. Solid black surface shading is not permitted on a design drawing, except when used to represent color contrast.

Section 1.165 is revised to provide that plant patent drawings must comply with the requirements of §1.84. The current exception that plant patent drawings do not automatically require view numbers and reference characters is maintained. Two sets of the drawings are needed. One set will be forwarded to the Department of Agriculture and the other set will be routed to the Office of Publication and Dissemination, Patent and Trademark Copy Sales, for copying purposes.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The Acting General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these changes is to revise and reformat the drawing standards to adopt international standards, to the extent possible, and to facilitate access to sections through inclusion of pertinent subsection headings, which should be helpful to small entities.

The Office has determined that these rule changes are not a major rule under Executive Order 12291 The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individuals, industries, Federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions because most of the changes reduce procedural burdens. There will be no adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Office has also determined that these rule changes have no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes contain a collection of information requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., which has previously been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control No. 0651-0011.

(d) A copyright or mask work notice may be placed in a design or utility patent application adjacent to copyright and mask work material contained therein. The notice may appear at any appropriate portion of the patent application disclosure. For notices in drawings, see §1.84(s). The content of the notice must be limited to only those elements provided for by law. For example, "© 1983 John Doe" (17 U.S.C. 401) and "M John Doe" (17 U.S.C. 909) would be properly limited and, under current statutes, legally sufficient notices of copyright and mask work, respectively. Inclusion of a copyright or mask work notice will be permitted only if the authorization language set forth in paragraph (e) of this section is included at the beginning (preferably as the first paragraph) of the specification.

* * * * *

5. Section 1.84 is revised to read as follows:

§1.84. Standards for drawings.

(a) Drawings. There are two acceptable categories for presenting drawings in utility patent applications:

(1) Black ink. Black and white drawings are normally required. India ink, or its equivalent that secures solid black lines, must be used for drawings, or

(2) Color. On rare occasions, color drawings may be necessary as the only practical medium by which to disclose the subject matter sought to be patented in a utility patent application or the subject matter of a statutory invention registration. The Patent and Trademark Office will accept color drawings in utility patent applications and statutory invention registrations only after granting a petition filed under this paragraph explaining why the color drawings are necessary. Any such petition must include the following:

(i) The appropriate fee set forth in §1.17(h);

(ii) Three (3) sets of color drawings; and

(iii) The specification must contain the following language as the first paragraph in that portion of the specification relating to the brief description of the drawing:

The file of this patent contains at least one drawing executed in color. Copies of this patent with color drawing(s) will be provided by the Patent and Trademark Office upon request and payment of the necessary fee."

If the language is not in the specification, a proposed amendment to insert the language must accompany the petition.

(b) Photographs.

(1) Black and white. Photographs are not ordinarily permitted in utility and design patent applications. However, the Office will accept photographs in utility and design patent applications only after granting a petition filed under this paragraph which requests that photographs be accepted. Any such petition must include the following:

(i) The appropriate fee set forth in 1.17(h); and

(ii) Three (3) sets of photographs. Photographs must either be developed on double weight photographic paper or be permanently mounted on bristol board. The photographs must be of sufficient quality so that all details in the drawing are reproducible in the printed patent.

(2) Color. Color photographs will be accepted in utility patent applications if the conditions for accepting color drawings have been satisfied. See paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

(c) Identification of drawings. Identifying indicia, if provided, should include the application number or the title of the invention, inventor's name, docket number (if any), and the name and telephone number of a person to call if the Office is unable to match the drawings to the proper application. This information should be placed on the back of each sheet of drawings a minimum distance of 1.5 cm. (5/8 inch) down from the top of the page.

(d) Graphic forms in drawings. Chemical or mathematical formulae, tables, and waveforms may be submitted as drawings, and are subject to the same requirements as drawings. Each chemical or mathematical formula must be labeled as a separate figure, using brackets when necessary, to show that information is properly integrated. Each group of waveforms must be presented as a single figure, using a common vertical axis with time extending along the horizontal axis. Each individual waveform discussed in the specification must be identified with a separate letter designation adjacent to the vertical axis.

(e) Type of paper. Drawings submitted to the Office must be made on paper which is flexible, strong, white, smooth, nonshiny, and durable. All sheets must be free from cracks, creases, and folds. Only one side of the sheet shall be used for the drawing. Each sheet must be reasonably free from erasures and must be free from alterations, overwritings, and interlineations. Photographs must either be developed on double weight photographic paper or be permanently mounted on bristol board. See paragraph (b) of this section for other requirements for photographs.

(f) Size of paper. All drawing sheets in an application must be the same size. One of the shorter sides of the sheet is regarded as its top. The size of the sheets on which drawings are made must be:

(1) 21.6 cm. by 35.6 cm. (8 1/2 by 14 inches),
(2) 21.6 cm. by 33.1 cm. (8 1/2 by 13 inches),
(3) 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches), or
(4) 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4).

(g) Margins. The sheets must not contain frames around the sight, i.e., the usable surface. The following margins are required:

(1) On 21.6 cm. by 35.6 cm. (8 1/2 by 14 inch) drawing sheets, each sheet must include a top margin of 5.1 cm. (2 inches), and bottom and side margins of .64 cm. (14 inch) from the edges, thereby leaving a sight no greater than 20.3 cm. by 29.8 cm. (8 by 11 3/4 inches).

(2) On 21.6 cm. by 33.1 cm. (8 1/2 by 13 inch) drawing sheets, each sheet must include a top margin of 2.5 cm. (1 inch) and bottom and side margins of .64 cm. (14 inch) from the edges, thereby leaving a sight no greater than 20.3 cm. by 29.8 cm. (8 by 11 3/4 inches).

(3) On 21.6 cm. by 27.9 Cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inch) drawing sheets, each sheet must include a top margin of 2.5 cm. (1 inch) and bottom and side margins of .64 cm. (1/4 inch) from the edges, thereby leaving a sight no greater than 20.3 cm. by 24.8 cm. (8 by 9 3/4 inches).

(4) On 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) drawing sheets. each sheet must include a top margin of at least 2.5 cm., a left side margin of 2.5 cm., a right side margin of 1.5 cm., and a bottom margin of 1.0 cm., thereby leaving a sight no greater than 17.0 cm. by 26.2 cm.

(h) Views. The drawing must contain as many views as necessary to show the invention. The views may be plan, elevation, section, or perspective views. Detail views of portions of elements, on a larger scale if necessary, may also be used. All views of the drawing must be grouped together and arranged on the sheet(s) without wasting space, preferably in an upright position, clearly separated from one another, and must not be included in the sheets containing the specifications, claims, or abstract. Views must not be connected by projection lines and must not contain center lines. Waveforms of electrical signals may be connected by dashed lines to show the relative timing of the waveforms.

(1) Exploded views. Exploded views, with the separated parts embraced by a bracket, to show the relationship or order of assembly of various parts are permissible. When an exploded view is shown in a figure which is on the same sheet as another figure, the exploded view should be placed in brackets.

(2) Partial views. When necessary, a view of a large machine or device in its entirety may be broken into partial views on a single sheet, or extended over several sheets if there is no loss in facility of understanding the view. Partial views drawn on separate sheets must always be capable of being linked edge to edge so that no partial view contains parts of another partial view. A smaller scale view should be included showing the whole formed by the partial views and indicating the positions of the parts shown. When a portion of a view is enlarged for magnification purposes, the view and the enlarged view must each be labeled as separate views.

(i) Where views on two or more sheets form, in effect, a single complete view, the views on the several sheets must be so arranged that the complete figure can be assembled without concealing any part of any of the views appearing on the various sheets.

(ii) A very long view may be divided into several parts placed one above the other on a single sheet. However, the relationship between the different parts must be clear and unambiguous.

(3) Sectional views. The plane upon which a sectional view is taken should be indicated on the view from which the section is cut by a broken line. The ends of the broken line should be designated by Arabic or Roman numerals corresponding to the view number of the sectional view, and should have arrows to indicate the direction of sight. Hatching must be used to indicate section portions of an object, and must be made by regularly spaced oblique parallel lines spaced sufficiently apart to enable the lines to be distinguished without difficulty. Hatching should not impede the clear reading of the reference characters and lead lines. If it is not possible to place reference characters outside the hatched area, the hatching may be broken off wherever reference characters are inserted. Hatching must be at a substantial angle to the surrounding axes or principal lines, preferably 45°. A cross section must be set out and drawn to show all of the materials as they are shown in the view from which the cross section was taken. The parts in cross section must show proper material(s) by hatching with regularly spaced parallel oblique strokes, the space between strokes being chosen on the basis of the total area to be hatched. The various parts of a cross section of the same item should be hatched in the same manner and should accurately and graphically indicate the nature of the material(s) that is illustrated in cross section. The hatching of juxtaposed different elements must be angled in a different way. In the case of large areas, hatching may be confined to an edging drawn around the entire inside of the outline of the area to be hatched. Different types of hatching should have different conventional meanings as regards the nature of a material seen in cross section.

(4) Alternate position. A moved position may be shown by a broken line superimposed upon a suitable view if this can be done without crowding; otherwise, a separate view must be used for this purpose.

(5) Modified forms. Modified forms of construction must be shown in separate views.

(i) Arrangement of views. One view must not be placed upon another or within the outline of another. All views on the same sheet should stand in the same direction and, if possible, stand so that they can be read with the sheet held in an upright position. If views wider than the width of the sheet are necessary for the clearest illustration of the invention, the sheet may be turned on its side so that the top of the sheet, with the appropriate top margin to be used as the heading space, is on the right-hand side. Words must appear in a horizontal, left-to-right fashion when the page is either upright or turned so that the top becomes the right side, except for graphs utilizing standard scientific convention to denote the axis of abscissas (of X) and the axis of ordinates (of Y).

(j) View for Official Gazette. One of the views should be suitable for publication in the Official Gazette as the illustration of the invention.

(k) Scale.

(1) The scale to which a drawing is made must be large enough to show the mechanism without crowding when the drawing is reduced in size to two-thirds in reproduction. Views of portions of the mechanism on a larger scale should be used when necessary to show details clearly. Two or more sheets may be used if one does not give sufficient room. The number of sheets should be kept to a minimum.

(2) When approved by the examiner, the scale of the drawing may be graphically represented. Indications such as actual size" or "scale 1/2" on the drawings, are not permitted, since these lose their meaning with reproduction in a different format.

(3) Elements of the same view must be in proportion to each other, unless a difference in proportion is indispensable for the clarity of the view. Instead of showing elements in different proportion, a supplementary view may be added giving a larger-scale illustration of the element of the initial view. The enlarged element shown in the second view should be surrounded by a finely drawn or "dot-dash" circle in the first view indicating its location without obscuring the view.

(l) Character of lines, numbers, and letters. All drawings must be made by a process which will give them satisfactory reproduction characteristics. Every line, number, and letter must be durable, clean, black (except for color drawings), sufficiently dense and dark, and uniformly thick and well-defined. The weight of all lines and letters must be heavy enough to permit adequate reproduction. This requirement applies to all lines however fine, to shading, and to lines representing cut surfaces in sectional views. Lines and strokes of different thicknesses may be used in the same drawing where different thicknesses have a different meaning.

(m) Shading. The use of shading in views is encouraged if it aids in understanding the invention and if it does not reduce legibility. Shading is used to indicate the surface or shape of spherical, cylindrical, and conical elements of an object. Flat parts may also be lightly shaded. Such shading is preferred in the case of parts shown in perspective, but not for cross sections. See paragraph (h)(3) of this section. Spaced lines for shading are preferred. These lines must be thin, as few in number as practicable, and they must contrast with the rest of the drawings. As a substitute for shading, heavy lines on the shade side of objects can be used except where they superimpose on each other or obscure reference characters. Light should come from the upper left corner at an angle of 45° Surface delineations should preferably be shown by proper shading. Solid black shading areas are not permitted, except when used to represent bar graphs or color.

(n) Symbols. Graphical drawing symbols may be used for conventional elements when appropriate. The elements for which such symbols and labeled representations are used must be adequately identified in the specification. Known devices should be illustrated by symbols which have a universally recognized conventional meaning and are generally accepted in the art. Other symbols which are not universally recognized may be used, subject to approval by the Office, if they are not likely to be confused with existing conventional symbols, and if they are readily identifiable.

(o) Legends. Suitable descriptive legends may be used, or may be required by the Examiner, where necessary for understanding of the drawing, subject to approval by the Office. They should contain as few words as possible.

(p) Numbers, letters, and reference characters.

(1) Reference characters (numerals are preferred), sheet numbers, and view numbers must be plain and legible, and must not be used in association with brackets or inverted commas, or enclosed within outlines, e.g., encircled. They must be oriented in the same direction as the view so as to avoid having to rotate the sheet. Reference characters should be arranged to follow the profile of the object depicted.

(2) The English alphabet must be used for letters, except where another alphabet is customarily used, such as the Greek alphabet to indicate angles, wavelengths, and mathematical formulas.

(3) Numbers, letters, and reference characters must measure at least .32 cm. (1/8 inch) in height. They should not be placed in the drawing so as to interfere with its comprehension. Therefore, they should not cross or mingle with the lines. They should not be placed upon hatched or shaded surfaces. When necessary, such as indicating a surface or cross section, a reference character may be underlined and a blank space may be left in the hatching or shading where the character occurs so that it appears distinct.

(4) The same part of an invention appearing in more than one view of the drawing must always be designated by the same reference character, and the same reference character must never be used to designate different parts.

(5) Reference characters not mentioned in the description shall not appear in the drawings. Reference characters mentioned in the description must appear in the drawings.

(q) Lead lines. Lead lines are those lines between the reference characters and the details referred to. Such lines may be straight or curved and should be as short as possible. They must originate in the immediate proximity of the reference character and extend to the feature indicated. Lead lines must not cross each other. Lead lines are required for each reference character except for those which indicate the surface or cross section on which they are placed. Such a reference character must be underlined to make it clear that a lead line has not been left out by mistake. Lead lines must be executed in the same way as lines in the drawing. See paragraph (1) of this section.

(r) Arrows. Arrows may be used at the ends of lines, provided that their meaning is clear, as follows:

(1) On a lead line, a freestanding arrow to indicate the entire section towards which it points;

(2) On a lead line, an arrow touching a line to indicate the surface shown by the line looking along the direction of the arrow; or

(3) To show the direction of movement.

(s) Copyright or Mask Work Notice. A copyright or mask work notice may appear in the drawing, but must be placed within the sight of the drawing immediately below the figure representing the copyright or mask work material and be limited to letters having a print size of .32 cm. to .64 cm. (1/8 to 1/4 inches) high. The content of the notice must be limited to only those elements provided for by law. For example, "© 1983 John Doe" (17 U.S.C. 401) and "M John Doe" (17 U.S.C. 909) would be properly limited and, under current statutes, legally sufficient notices of copyright and mask work, respectively. Inclusion of a copyright or mask work notice will be permitted only if the authorization language set forth in §1.71(e) is included at the beginning (preferably as the first paragraph) of the specification.

(t) Numbering of sheets of drawings. The sheets of drawings should be numbered in consecutive Arabic numerals, starting with 1, within the sight as defined in paragraph (g) of this section. These numbers, if present, must be placed in the middle of the top of the sheet, but not in the margin. The numbers can be placed on the right-hand side if the drawing extends too close to the middle of the top edge of the usable surface. The drawing sheet numbering must be clear and larger than the numbers used as reference characters to avoid confusion. The number of each sheet should be shown by two Arabic numerals placed on either side of an oblique line, with the first being the sheet number, and the second being the total number of sheets of drawings, with no other marking.

(u) Numbering of views.

(1) The different views must be numbered in consecutive Arabic numerals, starting with 1, independent of the numbering of the sheets and, if possible, in the order in which they appear on the drawing sheet(s). Partial views intended to form one complete view, on one or several sheets, must be identified by the same number followed by a capital letter. View numbers must be preceded by the abbreviation "FIG." Where only a single view is used in an application to illustrate the claimed invention, it must not be numbered and the abbreviation "FIG." must not appear.

(2) Numbers and letters identifying the views must be simple and clear and must not be used in association with brackets, circles, or inverted commas. The view numbers must be larger than the numbers used for reference characters.

(v) Security markings. Authorized security markings may be placed on the drawings provided they are outside the sight, preferably centered in the top margin.

(w) Corrections. Any corrections on drawings submitted to the Office must be durable and permanent.

(x) Holes. The drawing sheets may be provided with two holes in the top margin. The holes should be equally spaced from the respective side edges, and their center lines should be spaced 7.0 cm. (2 3/4 inches) apart.

(See §1.152 for design drawings, §1.165 for plant drawings, and §1.174 for reissue drawings.)

6. Section 1.88 is removed and reserved.

§1.88 {Reserved}

7. Section 1.123 is revised to read as follows:

§1.123 Amendments to the drawing.

No change in the drawing may be made except with permission of the Office. Permissible changes in the construction shown in any drawing may be made only by the submission of a substitute drawing by applicant. A sketch in permanent ink showing proposed changes, to become part of the record, must be filed for approval by the examiner and should be a separate paper.

8. Section 1.152 is revised to read as follows:

§1.152 Design drawing.

The design must be represented by a drawing that complies with the requirements of §1.84, and must contain a sufficient number of views to constitute a complete disclosure of the appearance of the article. Appropriate surface shading must be used to show the character or contour of the surfaces represented. Solid black surface shading is not permitted except when used to represent color contrast. Broken lines may be used to show visible environmental structure, but may not be used to show hidden planes and surfaces which cannot be seen through opaque materials. Alternate positions of a design component, illustrated by full and broken lines in the same view are not permitted in a design drawing. Photographs and ink drawings must not be combined in one application. Photographs submitted in lieu of ink drawings in design patent applications must comply with §1.84(b) and must not disclose environmental structure but must be limited to the design for the article claimed. Color drawings and color photographs are not permitted in design patent applications.

9. Section 1.165 is revised to read as follows:

§1.165 Plant drawings.

(a) Plant patent drawings should be artistically and competently executed and must comply with the requirements of §1.84. View numbers and reference characters need not be employed unless required by the examiner. The drawing must disclose all the distinctive characteristics of the plant capable of visual representation.

(b) The drawing may be in color and when color is a distinguishing characteristic of the new variety, the drawing must be in color. Two copies of color drawings or color photographs must be submitted.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PDTLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that prelminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
